Rules of the S.I.A. (HF)

Rules of the S.I.A. (VHF & UP)

Rules of the S.I.A. (HF)

- 1) For the S.I.A. are considered valid the islands, the reefs, the "faraglioni" and, in general, any piece of soil, sand or rock standing out the water all the time in a day prescinding from the condition of the tides; anyway it will have to be respected the concept of island, as normally accepted.
- 2) The connection with the mainland by means of structures built by the man, like bridges, crossing paths, and so on, does not limit the concept of validity, on condition that the water is free to flow under the bridge or other structure.
- 3) Islands made by the man are not valid, e.g.: dams, breakwaves, barriers, artificial islands, and so on.
- 4) River and lake islands are not valid.
- 5) The island, as defined in (1), must be shown and named in the Italian Map, scale 1:25,000 of the Military Geographic Institute; or its name must be found on detailed nautical maps, or on documents released by the "Capitaneria di Porto", or on specialized sectorial issues, or on any other official source.
- 6) The distance from the mainland must always be not less than 50 meters (56.7 yds), even on low tide.
- 7) HF operations will be accepted only if the contacts will be at least 100.
- 8) The list of the islands, updated at December 31st 1995, is to be considered complete, even if some changes will be possible (eventual additions or deletings) after specific requests, supported by sufficient cartographic evidence.
- 9) Yearly the S.I.A. standing will be published on the magazine "Radio Rivista". It will be made basing on the applications and updatings received until December 31st of the previous year.
- 10) Eventual requests about insertion of islands in the official list must be sent only to the Award Manager, that will be supported by the experts of the S.I.A. Committee for any doubtful case that could appear.
- 11) A proper Commission, whose decisions will be unquestionable, will evaluate eventual updatings and/or controvertings.
